TAFT TURNS THUMB SCREWS

(Associated Press Cable.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—Taft came back at former President Roosevelt with a smashing, bone-crushing blow this afternoon. Acting under the instructions contained in a Senate resolution, the Attorney General's office forwarded to the upper house of Congress the secret letters of the Colonel to former Attorney General Charles Joseph Bonaparte, disclosing a secret deal whereby the prosecution of the Harvester Trust was called off in 1907. It was the biggest sensation of the campaign to date, and the Roosevelt managers here have had nothing to say.

The correspondence is not voluminous. It consists of a letter from Mr. Roosevelt, then President, to Mr. Bonaparte, directing that official to hold a conference with Herbert Knox Smith, Commissioner of Corporations, with the purpose of beginning the prosecution of the Harvester Trust, and instructing Bonaparte to get all the information Smith could furnish, regarding the actions of the Trust and its liability under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Conference With Perkins.
Following that letter is one from the then President declaring that he had had a conference with George W. Perkins, partner in the banking firm of Pierpont Morgan, regarding the proposed action against the trust, and ordering Bonaparte to remove from the file any such action as he might have instituted. In this letter Bonaparte was also directed to confer with Perkins and Smith on the matter and see if some solution of the difficulty might not be found.

The next letter in the correspondence turned over to the Senate comes from Commissioner Smith, and contains the crux of the whole matter. In it Mr. Smith says that, acting upon the command of the President, he and Bonaparte had met and conferred with Mr. Perkins about the prosecution of the Trust.

The Commissioner's letter declares that Perkins was exceedingly angry when informed that action against the Harvester Trust was contemplated by the Government, and had actually advanced as far as it had at that time. The financier declared that "in view of the endeavors of the Harvester Trust, and other interests of Mr. Morgan to uphold the Roosevelt administration such an attack upon the trust, based as it is upon a mere technicality, is astonishing."

Perkins Makes a Threat.
Continuing, the letter to Roosevelt says that Mr. Perkins added that "if this attack continued, the Morgan interests will feel that it is incumbent upon them to retaliate in kind and will go into the political fight against you."

Toward the close of Smith's letter the Commissioner of Corporations says that while he had no doubt that wrong had been committed by the trust, "the practical question" was whether it was advisable at that time to "antagonize the Morgan interests."

JUSTIN MCCARTHY DEAD
IN HIS LONDON HOME.
LONDON, Eng., April 24.—Justin McCarthy, statesman, novelist and publicist, died tonight in his home in this city.

Justin McCarthy was born in Cork, Ireland, Nov. 22, 1830. He was the son of a Roman Catholic, and under the then existing law of Ireland could not obtain a degree in any of the colleges of his native land. His father, however, was ambitious for him, and gave him a fine private education. He was a hard worker and turned out a number of novels and historical works, as well as many pamphlets upon current political questions. He was elected to Parliament from Longford County in 1870.

MISTAKE IN TORPEDOES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 24.—The cruiser Maryland of the Pacific fleet was badly damaged today during target practice with torpedoes. The torpedo-boats, with which the Maryland was practicing, had fired several torpedoes of the regulation collapsible, practice pattern at the hull of the big cruiser, which was acting as target. Finally one of the torpedoes struck the steel-plated side of the warship and a crash followed. It turned out a solid-headed torpedo had been fired by mistake, and it is feared that some of the plates have buckled under the blow. Divers are down investigating the damage and it is probable that an official inquiry will be ordered.

CHINESE EXECUTIONERS

MUST USE CHLOROFORM.
SHANGHAI, China, April 24.—Orders have been received here from the central government directing that in future all military prisoners ordered to be shot be chloroformed before they are executed. This step is taken, says the order, because of the poor marksmanship of the Chinese soldiers, which frequently necessitates several shots before the condemned man is killed.

SUFFRAGE LOSES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.—Woman suffrage for Alaska was disapproved today in the House on a tie vote on the Mann amendment to the Alaskan home rule bill.

Mrs. Hotty Green, for the first time in her business career of nearly fifty years, has opened offices of her own, at 411 Broadway, New York, a stone's throw from Wall street.
